

Model 391 Dante Alerting Unit

Introduction

The Model 391 is a table-top unit that provides visual and audible indication that operator attention is being requested. Also referred to as a party-line “beacon,” the Model 391 offers extensive configuration choices to optimize performance. Used in conjunction with Dante audio-over-Ethernet-based intercom beltpacks and user stations that support call light functionality.

